poverty relief through education

We built two schools for 2010

Larry and Linda Kull school and Jerry Essenmacher, Sam Relief school for 2010

Dedication for Mr. William Batdorf, Sam Relief school for 2009 at Siem Reap

Mr. William Batdorf, Sam Relief. CPA and Board of Advisor.

We donated 15 ton of rice to Angkor Children Hospital.

Sam Relief, Inc. is an all-volunteer 501(c) (3) non-profit organization dedicated to providing educational resources to the impoverished children of Cambodia.

Sam Relief donates 100% of its proceeds to humanitarian projects such as the construction of schools and digging of fresh water wells in deprived areas. In addition, Sam Relief provides Cambodian children and their families necessities such as rice, rice seed, farm equipment, medicine, school supplies, eyeglasses and school uniforms. The renovation and repair of dilapidated schools, subsidization of teachers' salaries and the provision of scholarships to high school students to attend university are all examples of the type of ongoing work performed by the Sam Relief organization. Recently Sam Relief created a "Food for Work" program in Cambodia which hires local adults to work on nearby projects such as creating roads and dikes for the poorest rural communities.

Since its inception in 1999, Sam Relief, Inc. has built 24 new schools, dug 320 new wells, donated 220 tons of rice to teachers, Children's Hospital of Cambodia, others in need and awarded 101 scholarships. In the last year alone, with the monies raised, Sam Relief built a new school, dug 20 new wells, and donated 15 tons of rice to the Angkor Children's Hospital of Cambodia.

Thanks to Mr. Stephen P. Meyer whose donated funds will construct a school to honor Mr. Larry and Mrs. Linda Kull at Kos Sotin, Kam Pong Cham Province.

With funds remaining from the 2009 campaign, Sam Relief is able to build a school to honor Mr. Jerry Essenmacher who has been a Sam Relief advisor for the past 10 years. Construction is currently under way, located adjacent the Larry and Linda Kull School.

The dedication of both schools will be on Monday, August 23, 2010.

Some of the 2008 donated funds built the William Batdorf School to honor the CPA and Board of Advisor for Sam Relief. This facility was dedicated in 2009.

Thanks to the sponsorship of Sam Relief by Ketel One Vodka for the past 8 years.

Special thanks go to Ambassador Hem Heng for his honored attendance and speech at the Sam Relief Gala in 2009.

I give my sincerest and many thanks to all who donated to these causes.
