Dear Friends:

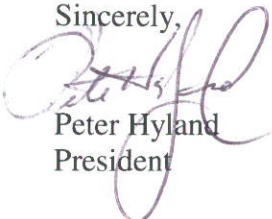

Many of you who visit Washington, DC have had the pleasure of meeting Sambonn Lek, bartender at the Renaissance Mayflower Hotel's Town and Country Bar. He is not only one of the Washington's most well known bartenders, but a great humanitarian.

Sam has worked tirelessly raising funds to aid the orphan children of his native country, Cambodia. Through his nonprofit charitable foundation, Sam Relief, Inc., Sambonn Lek has built numerous schools for Cambodian children who otherwise would not have had an opportunity for an education. He is responsible for the construction of sixty wells providing clean water to hundreds of families. Sam Relief, Inc. also provides these children with school supplies, eyeglasses, clothing, food, and medicine.

This month The Hyland Group will donate $1000 to Sam Relief, Inc. If each recipient of this newsletter donated just $10 Sam would be able to build three more schools providing hundreds of orphaned children an opportunity to learn. To do so, all you need to do is send a check made payable to Sam Relief, Inc. to The Hyland Group at 1911 N. Fort Myer Drive, Suite 505, Arlington, VA 22209. All contributions are tax deductible.

In 2003 Sam raised $77,000. He has already raised $87,000 in 2004. We want to take Sam over the $100,000 mark this year, so whatever you are able to donate would be most appreciated. We will announce in our newsletter how much our combined efforts contributed to this noble cause.

Sincerely,

Peter Hyland
President
